The Bremen Table is named in honor of the famous German town—and the less famous town of the same name here in Maine, a salute to a design continuum that connects our lands metaphorically. This table is inspired by the simplicity of true Biedermeier design while maintaining the fundamental Moser principles of hand labor and meticulous attention to detail.

Drawing on the success of the Vita Dining Table, Tom's design of the Bremen Table incorporates a veneered top which is laid out in a starburst pattern. This detail provides a prominent visual interest to complement the minimalist design.
